This year two campus groups, SUAVE (Salisbury University Against Violence Everywhere) and GOT (Girls on Top), collaborated with the Life Crisis Center of Salisbury to hold the 2nd annual Take Back the Night March in Salisbury this past Wednesday.

SUAVE is a new club on campus promoting and spreading awareness of violence in the community. GOT is another new group, and presents itself as an alternative to "The goal of SUAVE is to make Salisbury safe for everyone by promoting activism against violence towards women," said Will Schimpf, Resident Director of

Dogwood and member of SUAVE. The march was held at the city courthouse to raise awareness of violence and sexual assault against women in honor of April being National Sexual Assault Awareness

Several members of the community along with members of the Life Crisis Center and Salisbury University attended carrying signs and candles.

The area in front of the Salisbury Courthouse displayed shirts raising awareness of violence against "Each shirt was made by women at the Life Crisis Center and each color represents a different type of violence they were faced with," said Dee Copeland of the Life Crisis Center. The shirts were made as part of a therapeutic recovery program from women at the center. Participants displayed slogans such as, "Life is too short to live in pain, I deserve better."

Several speeches were made before the march and candle vigil. One of the speeches was by a woman who, along with her family, experienced these cruelties first-

"These things happen in our community everyday, one in three women will be beaten, and one in five will be sexually assaulted," said Michelle Hughes, Executive Director of the Life Crisis Center, in her speech.

Speeches were also made by members of the criminal justice system and prosecuting attorneys of Salisbury.

Following the speeches, a song was sung for the victims of these crimes and then a candlelight vigil

The Take Back the Night March followed the vigil and went into the twilight hours on Wednesday.

The march was led by a woman whose family member was the victim of sexual assault and followed by several dozen students and members of the community carrying signs and pickets with slogans such as "End Violence to Women NOW" and "Men Can Change" to raise awareness of sexual assault and violence.

SUAVE helps "Day of Rememberence for Holocaust Victims"

By Ryan Grove Staff writer

The Jewish Student Association hosted two events this past week in remembrance of the Holocaust. On Holocaust Remembrance Day ("Yom HaShoah" in Hebrew), Tuesday April 25th, survivor Litman Litow spoke to the crowd in the Wicomico Room. After his speech, a brief candlelight vigil was held. On Wednesday April 26th the The Believer was shown in Devilbiss Hall. The Believer is a 2001 film inspired by a young man's journey to understand the meaning of Judaism in his life after being raised Jewish, but also participating in anti-Semitic groups.

This policy is meant to prevent the kind of violence seen at last year's Field Day and at the University of Maryland, College Park in 2002 when students rioted after Maryland's loss to Duke University in the Men's Basketball Final Four.

According to the official policy, any misconduct that results in harm to persons or property or otherwise poses a threat to the stability of the campus or campus community such as rioting, assault, theft, vandalism, and fire setting is a violation of the code of conduct. Following a campus judicial proceeding, the responsible party or parties will be suspended or expelled and the incident will be noted on the student's transcript. Students who receive

According to University Police Chief Edwin Lashley, student safety is first and foremost in the minds of the university as well as the SU police department. "We can go back as early as last year and we can find that such celebrations [at Field Day] created an atmosphere that was unsafe for students and the community in which our students reside," he said. "So the key message is to be responsible adults and when you consider assemblies in celebratory situations, just keep in mind that public safety is fore-Recounting last years' events, Lashley said, "It was a celebration that got out of hand. SU Dean of Students Dr. Edwin Cowell stresses his concern for students who will damage their permanent records if they take part in the upcoming "Anti-Field Day" activities. "It would really hurt me deeply to think that all the good that I know our students do, whether it be on campus or beyond, could possibly be tarnished or forgotten by one single event," he said.

According to Salisbury City police Chief Allan Webster, every available unit in the county will be patrolling the Salisbury area on May 6. This includes the Maryland State Police, City Police, Fruitland Police, and SU Police. Authorities will make arrests for alcohol and noise violations. At press time, authorities stated that there is a possibility that Maryland State Police will set up sobriety check points.

Additionally, in collaboration with State's Attorney Davis Ruark, Webster has announced that all alcohol violations will go directly to court; there will be no first offenders program. He said, "My hope is But last year, we had couches burning in the streets and dumpsters on fire. I'm not putting up with it this University officials have clearly stated that whether or not Field Day returns to SU will rely solely upon the behavior of students on May 6. "It's really within their control. We hope that they exercise a good degree of thought and care about the kind of power that they have right now," said Cowell, "The focus should be graduation, moving up to finals, and ending the semester in a properly productive manner; and we want to help [them] do that...However, we are going to make sure that were doing everything we can to help ensure that there's a safe environment to do so. What we witnessed last year was not a safe environment."

Judge Bell addresses justice and social change

By Meredith Maguire

Maryland's Chief Judge Robert Bell spoke in Halloway's Great Hall last Tuesday about issues concerning justice and social change. His speech was part of the Salisbury University Center for Conflict Resolution's "One Person Can Make a Difference" lecture series.

"Judge Bell is a great role model and is highly respected not only in the black community, but everywhere you go," said Mary Ashanti,

President of the Wicomico County NAACP.

Bell, raised in a black community in Baltimore, was a major player during the Civil Rights Movement and in 1996 was the first African American to be appointed Chief Judge of the state's highest court. Bell became the only active judge in state's judiciary. During his speech, Executive Director of the Judiciary of Maryland Rachel Wohl, interviewed

Bell promotes Alternative Dispute Resolution, which allows the courts to use mediation and other methods to solve cases that have remain unresolved through other means.

"I think that this speech helped to raise awareness about the Conflict Resolution Center here on campus and how there is a community four years on all four levels of the mediation initiative that the University can take advantage of," said Junior Jenna Caling.

> Ashanti said Bell was her hero and thought the stories told by Bell about his background were a pleasing bonus to her night.

"It was enlightening and motivational. It shows that it can really be done," said Ashanti.

"I think his position on social change is good and I am excited to see that he is still doing what he is doing, despite his age," said junior Matt Walker, "Things he was doing when he was my age and he is still doing it now. He is trying to make the world we live in better it is very inspiring."

SU celebrates diversity with Multicultural Week

The 2006 Multicultural Festival drew students outside despite Monday's cool weather. For the 11th year venders, musicians and food tents representing a variety of cultures set up along the pergola and across Red Square, kicking off a week of internationally diverse events. Performances by Parks Martial Arts, Keith Marks Jazz Trio, The Steel Kings and Mystic Warriors entertained students, faculty, staff and members of the community. The festivities continue 7 p.m. Tuesday with the movie Good Kurds, Bad Kurds in the Wicomico room and conclude Friday with a Cinco de Mayo celebration planned in front of Henson Hall.

YES NO

If so, you may be entitled to recover a tuition refund. That is because the Maryland Court of Special Appeals has ruled that the University System of Maryland has an unconstitutional policy for deciding whether students are entitled to in-state tuition. The effect of this decision is that all students who applied for in-state tuition from 2000 to present may be entitled to a tuition refund based on the difference between what they paid for out-of-state tuition and what they would have paid for in-state tuition.

The Rules of Sudoku

The classic Sudoku game involves a grid of 81 squares. The grid is divided into nine blocks, each containing nine squares.

The rules of the game are simple: each of the nine blocks has to contain all the numbers 1-9 within its squares. Each number can only appear once in a row, column or

The difficulty lies in that each vertical nine-square column, or horizontal ninesquare line across, within the larger square, must also contain the numbers 1-9, without repetition or omission.

Track and Field runs away with CAC title

By Noah Wood

The Salisbury University track well. We had numerous and field team competed very well at the Capital Athletic Conference Championships hosted by the son-best performances at University of Mary Washington in the meet, including a Fredricksburg, Virginia, on Sunday, April 23rd, with the men conference meet record taking the title and the women which is really outstandfinishing in second.

The men won the meet with 268 points, beating last year's school record for the number of total points scored at a CAC championship, which was 263 points. The weather was a little cool and rainy at the beginning of the meet, but it quickly cleared and warmed up, and the Sea Gulls easily rose to the challenge. In order to earn all-CAC honors, the athletes at the meet had to finish in either first or second in their events. The men who were all-CAC were freshman Doug Baker (first with 21'00.75"), sophomore Eric Graves (first in the 5,000 meter run with 15:52.20 and second in the 1,500 senior Derrick Washington (first meter run with 4:04.50), senior Scott Koehler (first in the 1,500 meter run with 4:04.13), freshmeter run with a personal best time of 1:58.07, senior Will ing of athletes who had all-confer-Murdoch (first in the 3,000 meter ence honors and strong improvesteeplechase with 9:48.60 and second in the 5,000 meter race with man Jenn Bulger (second in the 16:11.30), freshman Tom Ruch (second in the discus throw with 132'10"), junior Buck Stokes (second in the 3,000 meter steeplechase with 10:18.60, sophomore 100 meter dash with 13.4 and the

Records fall as Sea Gulls fly high

By Dustin Holt Staff Writer

The Salisbury baseball team defeated Christopher Newport University 13-7 Sunday afternoon on Senior Day at Sea Gull Field. Senior shortstop Greg Lemon and senior first baseman Nick Pegelow broke the all-time walk and hits record, respectively. Salisbury starter Bryan Brainer went five innings allowing only two runs for his fifth win of the year.

Lemon opened the game with a single and advanced to second on a throwing error. Senior left fielder Jason Lively's sacrifice bunt moved Lemon over to third. Junior center fielder Colin Kraus smoked a single through the box to bring home Lemon to tie the score at 1-

The Sea Gulls jumped ahead in the second, adding two more runs. Junior catcher Pete Callahan started the inning with a double to the left center field gap. Junior third baseman Alex Vitale placed a perfect bunt on the turf, allowing him to reach first safely and Callahan to advance. Senior Matt Foster brought Callahan in with a fielder's choice ground out. Vitale then scored on a line drive single to right field by sophomore second baseman Mark Bostwick, giving Salisbury a 3-1 lead.

The inning was historic as Lemon walked, giving him 91 career baseson balls, breaking a tie with Dave Funk from the class of 1979 for sole possession of first place on the SU all-time list.

After the Captains added a run in the fifth, Salisbury answered with three of their own in their half of the inning. The Sea Gulls were helped on a throwing error by the CNU pitcher. The inning alsosaw Pegelow tie the career hits mark for Salisbury University with a single

After CNU cut the Gulls' lead to two in the 7th, Salisbury countered with a five-run rally in the bottom of the inning. Vitale singled and was followed by two Sea Gull walks. Lemon flied out to left ,bringing Vitale home on the sacrifice fly for the seventh run of the game. After an out and a Kraus single, Pegelow stepped up to the plate with the bases loaded and tied for first on the all-time hit list. On the first pitch, Pegelow hit a rocket off the right center field fence scoring all three runners and passing Jason Ewing, class of 2002, for the all-time Salisbury career lead in hits at 233. Junior right fielder Andrew Jensen then singled home Pegelow for an 11-4 lead.

In the eighth, junior pitcher Dan Oleynik got out of a one out bases loaded jam with a pop up and a ground out. The Sea Gulls added two more runs in the bottom of the inning when Vitale scored on a double and Lively singled home Lemon from second base.

The win puts Salisbury at 34-6 as they tune up for the NCAA Regional Tournament.
